CANNING TEST STARTS SEASON AT ORRTANNA

What was scheduled officially to be a test run of cherry canning at the Orrtanna Canning company's new plant at Orrtanna Friday turned into the "start of the canning season," Howard Musselman of the plant staff said today.

"Everything went very well, much better than we had expected," Mr. Musselman added concerning the test run. The plant continued in operation today and is expected to continue for the duration of the canning season.

The canning operations were the first in Orrtanna since the company's previous plant was destroyed by fire December 3, 1942. Last year the company's cherry canning was performed at the C. E. Musselman company plant, Biglerville and the apple canning was done at the Peach Glen plant of the Knoose Corporation.

35 Are Employed
A crew of 35 operated the new plant Friday and the company today was seeking additional help to fill out the complement of men and women necessary to continue the canning work.

Work on the new plant was started last June when the Orrtanna company began cutting timber in several hundred acres of woodland owned by the Musselmans. Since that time 255,000 board feet of wood have been cut with the company practicing approved lumbering methods in order to farm its woodlands. Wood that was not used in the construction of the plant has been sold to war industries, and present plans call for the company to continue its lumbering operations.

D. E. Hess, local farm forester, was called in last spring to mark the timber to be cut in the woodlots so that only mature timber would be used. It was said today.

Build Large Plant
The new building, made of wooden frame with asbestos siding, is "L" shaped with the one side 160 feet long by about the same width and the other side 200 feet long by about 100 feet wide. The building is smaller than the former plant, but through the new design will have about the same floor space as the old building.

Ceilings in the new two-story building are higher and the installation of numerous windows will give more light to the 200 workers who will be employed there during the peak of the canning season. The new structure is built on the same general site as the burned plant, which was built in 1913 and added to nearly every year thereafter.

FOUR COUNTIES ARE INDUCTED

The board today asked all registrants to notify the board if they change their place of employment, or their address. "It is imperative that registrants keep their local boards informed at all times of their present employer and duties performed if proper selection of the men for duties with the armed forces is to be made," a spokesman for the board said today.

Seven German Panzer Units Are Repulsed

By WES GALLAGHER

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, July 1 (AP)—The British Second Army stood firm on its Odon river salient in the seething battle for Caen today, having repulsed furious attacks by elements of seven Panzer divisions.

Thirty more German tanks were reduced to shattered hulks of steel, bringing the total destroyed by the British alone since D-Day to 142 and the total destroyed or disabled to 322.

If the German armored units which Field Marshal Erwin Rommel has thrown into the fight were up to strength they would represent about 2,000 tanks and self-propelled guns. Some of the units have been brought from Russia.

Americans Drive To St. Lo

American forces, in local attacks in the central sector of the bridgehead, drove to within two and one half miles of St. Lo, reaching the villages of La Forge, on the main highway to Isigny and Le Carillon due north of the city.

Indications were seen here today that Rommel himself had taken personal command of the bridgehead front, particularly after the death of Col. Gen. Friedrich Dollman, commander of the German 7th Army, which Berlin announced yesterday.

It was apparent, too, that Rommel was trying to use his Panzers as he did in the Libyan desert to force quick, violent decisions.

But so far British pressure in the Odon river salient was so great that Rommel had been unable to mount one large scale counterattack but had been committing his divisions in local attacks quickly as they reach the scene of action.

Rommel Has Reserve Of Tanks

Rommel still had a sizable reserve of tanks which he has not used in the battle—but which he could use any moment.

"Allied troops are strengthening their positions on both banks of the Odon river," said Allied communique No. 51 today. "All enemy attempts to break through were frustrated in the Caen-Evrecy sector. There is nothing to report on the rest of the front."

The RAF yesterday sent big Lancasters and Halifaxes, usually used for night bombing, on one of their few daylight tactical missions, the bombing of Rommel's reserves of armor. More than 250 of these heavy bombers dropped 1,000 tons of bombs at 7:55 p. m. on a concentration of German tanks at Villers-Bocage.

A check of the battlefield revealed that the Germans suffered heavy casualties in their violent counter-attack to the river Odon two nights ago. This attack was repelled in action before.

Sgt. Donald Price Given Air Medal
(Special To The Times)
Fifteenth AAF in Italy (By Mail)

For meritorious achievement while participating in sustained operational and aerial activities against the enemy, Staff Sergeant Donald O. Price, son of Mrs. Helen L. Price of 100 Baltimore street, a radio operator in a 15th AAF heavy bombardment unit somewhere in Italy, has been awarded the coveted Air Medal.

Sgt. Price, 21, is a graduate of Gettysburg high school, class of 1941. Since entering the AAF at Philadelphia, December 7, 1942, he has graduated from Scott Field Radio School and Laredo Aerial Gunnery School.

The grim determination of the German high command to block the Allied advances was seen in the fact that despite their serious defeat on the Russian front, they have been withdrawing divisions from the eastern front and sending them to France.

Dempsey announced at the front last night that his men had captured German prisoners who only recently had arrived from the fighting in Russia. He asserted he was "completely confident as the situation stands now. The enemy has had a crack. As usual the Hun has reacted very quickly and violently. He is now rushing reinforcements into the battle. We are fully ready."

Today there was a temporary lull in the fighting as both sides regrouped their forces for a big effort.

Seven German Panzer Units Are Repulsed

By WES GALLAGHER

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, July 1 (AP)—The British Second Army stood firm on its Odon river salient in the seething battle for Caen today, having repulsed furious attacks by elements of seven Panzer divisions.

Thirty more German tanks were reduced to shattered hulks of steel, bringing the total destroyed by the British alone since D-Day to 142 and the total destroyed or disabled to 322.

If the German armored units which Field Marshal Erwin Rommel has thrown into the fight were up to strength they would represent about 2,000 tanks and self-propelled guns. Some of the units have been brought from Russia.

Americans Drive To St. Lo

American forces, in local attacks in the central sector of the bridgehead, drove to within two and one half miles of St. Lo, reaching the villages of La Forge, on the main highway to Isigny and Le Carillon due north of the city.

Indications were seen here today that Rommel himself had taken personal command of the bridgehead front, particularly after the death of Col. Gen. Friedrich Dollman, commander of the German 7th Army, which Berlin announced yesterday.

It was apparent, too, that Rommel was trying to use his Panzers as he did in the Libyan desert to force quick, violent decisions.

But thus far British pressure in the Odon river salient was so great that Rommel had been unable to mount one large scale counterattack but had been committing his divisions in local attacks quickly as they reach the scene of action.

Rommel Has Reserve Of Tanks

Rommel still had a sizable reserve of tanks which he has not used in the battle—but which he could use any moment.

"Allied troops are strengthening their positions on both banks of the Odon river," said Allied communique No. 51 today. "All enemy attempts to break through were frustrated in the Caen-Evrecy sector. There is nothing to report on the rest of the front."

The RAF yesterday sent big Lancasters and Halifaxes, usually used for night bombing, on one of their few daylight tactical missions, the bombing of Rommel's reserves of armor. More than 250 of these heavy bombers dropped 1,000 tons of bombs at 7:55 p. m. on a concentration of German tanks at Villers-Bocage.

STUNNED NAZIS POURING INTO CITY OF MINSK

By EDDIE GILMORE

Moscow, July 1 (AP)—Front dispatches said today that remnants of a demoralized German Army are pouring into Minsk, now outflanked from the northwest, and that the roar of battle is echoing through the city's outskirts.

Storm troops and the Gestapo were reported trying to create some kind of order out of the battered, frightened Nazi legions defending the capital of White Russia, now Hitler's most important bastion on his eastern front.

Three Soviet armies converged rapidly upon Minsk from the northeast, east and southeast. Gen. Ivan Cherniakov's third Army streamed through the thick forests northeast of the city over numerous bridges now stretched across the Berezina river.

Nazis Are Bewildered

The Army paper Red Star revealed that the main crossing was made over a bridge which guerrillas held in a pitched battle until Red Army troops arrived.

The Red Star dispatch said Soviet cavalry moved through the forests north of Minsk and outflanked the city from the northwest.

Correspondents reported hundreds of demoralized Germans surrendering before they reached the city.

The Red Army was represented as having some difficulty in moving up for a direct blow upon Minsk because of the large number of captives crowding the roads.

Of fighting in the city of Borisov, main railway center northeast of Minsk and the Nazis' biggest defense point before the city, Red Star correspondent Yakov Milyutsky said "one street after another is being captured."

Reds Report Gains

The Russians, asserting that 183,980 of Hitler's eastern front soldiers had been killed or captured in the first week of the new drive, reported continued gains in the fighting that raged from the far northern Finnish front to the center of the Pripyat marshes on the south.

In the north Gen. Ivan Bagration's forces began a drive for the Baltic Republics of the Soviet union with the capture of two points inside old Poland—Dysna and Prozorki. Dysna is only 27 miles from Lavis and 54 from Lithuania.

The Red Army captured Slutsk, an important railroad for the south and about 70 miles west of Bobruisk, and took Permyk, extending the front to a point 30 miles west of Molyr and 100 miles southeast of Minsk.

ALBANY WILL GREET DEWEY

Enroute to Albany with Dewey, July 1 (AP)—Thomas E. Dewey neared home today with the third presidential nomination won by a New York governor in 16 years and the foundation of a national campaign organization already well cemented.

Hailing eastward from Chicago, where the Republicans nominated him Wednesday, the 42-year-old governor looked forward to a public reception in the massive old capitol from which Democrats drew their 1928 and 1932 candidates, Alfred E. Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Dewey said he had no plans beyond the "mountain of work" he expects to find on his Albany desk.

The governor was cheered aboard his train by hundreds of Chicago well-wishers late yesterday. Subsequently he shook hands, signed autographs and exchanged banner with crowds during brief stops enroute.

Beside him at each stop was Mrs. Dewey, who drew her own share of applause and the admiration of one Ekhardt, Inc., feminine enthusiast who shouted to Dewey: "We love your wife."

"I'm glad you agree with me," the governor shot back.

Plan OPA Ag. Group To Assist Farmers

Harrisburg, July 1 (AP)—Formation of OPA agricultural cooperating committees with the announced aim of taking care of the little problems of farmers in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland was in prospect today following a four-state farm conference here.

Frank C. Russell, assistant to Daniel P. Woolley, regional OPA administrator of New York, told the conference yesterday that OPA directors will set up the committees to handle problems which are outside the scope of national price control policies.

H. H. Williamson, Washington, OPA agricultural relations advisor, said such committees should be set up and that OPA officials should, if possible, encourage farmers to become active on rationing boards.

HEAVY LOSSES ON SAIPAN FOR YANKEE TROOPS

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, July 1 (AP)—American forces punched through intensified Japanese resistance today on Saipan island, already the Pacific war's bloodiest battlefield, with 9,332 American dead, wounded and missing.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced that casualties for the first two weeks were: Dead, 1,474; wounded, 7,400; missing, 878.

Japanese losses were several times higher—4,951 bodies have been buried—but the defenders were fighting in increased tenacity.

New gains were reported in the center of the battle line and on the eastern flank as American forces pushed through extremely difficult terrain.

From Saipan's D-day, June 14, through last Wednesday, American losses far exceeded the bitter Tarawa fight or the six months' Guadalcanal Campaign.

Other Casualties

The Marine assault force, as at Tarawa, bore the heaviest loss on Saipan—1,289 killed in action; 6,377 wounded; 827 missing.

The Army toll: 185 dead; 1,203 wounded; 51 missing.

Tarawa—still now the costliest victory in Marine Corps history—claimed 1,026 dead and 2,557 wounded. Guadalcanal totalled 3,767.

In addition to the Japanese bodies found in Saipan's battle areas, many hundreds of dead and wounded were carried away by withdrawing troops.

Therefore, Admiral Nimitz said, no accurate estimate was possible of Japanese losses.

The Americans fought to a new position near the small mountain town of Charan Danishi on the eastern edge of the ridge bisecting the island. This provided a dominating position over Japanese-held terrain.

U. S. parols continued to probe burned Garapan, the island's capital. The town was still under naval and artillery bombardment.

Northward of Garapan, carrier planes and warships hammered Japanese strong points in the Tanapag harbor district.

Aerial and surface bombardment also hit nearby Tinian island. Carrier planes struck at Rota, farther south in the Marianas.

Each time I have written you I have tried to express my appreciation for this service you are giving the Adams county men and women in service. For my part, I can't make that too strong for it has kept me in touch with my old friends in our section.

Yours sincerely,
ROBERT MORGAN

Dear Sir:

I am taking time to write, thanking you for The Gettysburg Times. I appreciate it very much. I look up the news of the boys in the county, to find out if they are in Van Dorn, and since your paper has the addresses printed with their names, it is not hard to find them.

You will notice that I have been promoted from private to private first class. I am working in the kitchen. I have charge of the dining and the kitchen. I am a cook's helper.

There are only a few of us boys here from Adams county. I was in Baton Rouge and met William R. Keeler there. He is stationed at Harding Field, in Louisiana. He is a son of Roger Keeler, Littlestown. There are two of us from Littlestown and two from Hanover that I know of so far. There were five of us from Littlestown who came into this camp together and there are only two of us left.

T-5 John H. is only a block away from me. I get to see him pretty often.

I want to thank you again for the paper.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, July 1 (AP)—Arithmetic lesson, or figures can be misleading but where do they lead? ... Herbert Bayard Swope, chairman of the New York State Racing Commission, likes to point out that most of the dough that goes through the mutual windows at racetracks finds its way back to the public—less ten per cent. ... He was quoted the other day in a local paper as saying: "When the size of the daily handle is mentioned, I would like to see it recorded this way: Total pool, $2,000,000. State's share, $120,000. Tracks share, $880,000. Breakage, $20,000, or whatever it is. Redistributed to the public, $1,780,000." ... Swope then went on to explain that the amount of money actually bet and re-bet to make up that two million bucks is roughly about a quarter of the total pool, which would be $500,000.

APPLIED SCIENCE

As this department reads those figures, that $220,000 "take" would come out of the $500,000 and thus would amount to 44 per cent of what the public carried into the track. ... Reducing that to more understandable numbers, an "average" fan who laid aside ten bucks to bet on the horses would have the fun of wagering $49 during the afternoon and would be nicked $4.50 by the machines. ... On top of that he'd spend about $150 for admission, 65 cents for transportation, a collar for refreshments and 35 cents for a program and tip sheet. ... That adds up to $3.80, so the day's entertainment would cost him $8. ... that isn't what we'd call cheap, but it may be okay if you like horses.

STUNNED NAZIS
POURING INTO
CITY OF MINSK

By EDDIE GILMORE

Moscow, July 1 (AP)—Front dispatches said today that remnants of a demoralized German Army are pouring into Minsk, now outflanked from the northwest, and that the roar of battle is echoing through the city's outskirts.

Storm troopers and the Gestapo were reported trying to create some kind of order out of the battered, frightened Nazi legions defending the capital of White Russia, now Hitler's most important bastion on his eastern front.

Three Soviet armies converged rapidly upon Minsk from the northeast, east and southeast. Gen. Ivan Cherniakhovsky's third Army streamed through the thick forests northeast of the city over numerous bridges now stretched across the Berezina river.

The Nazis Are Bewildered

The Army paper Red Star revealed that the main crossing was made over a bridge which guerrillas held in a pitched battle until Red Army troops arrived.

The Red Star dispatch said Soviet cavalry moved through the forests north of Minsk and outflanked the city from the northwest.

Correspondents reported hundreds of demoralized Germans surrendering before they reached the city.

The Red Army was represented as having some difficulty in moving up for a direct blow upon Minsk because of the large number of captives crowding the roads.

Of fighting in the city of Borisov, main railway center northeast of Minsk and the Nazis' biggest defense point before the city, Red Star correspondent Yakof Miletzky said "one street after another is being captured."

Reds Report Gains

The Russians, asserting that 183,930 of Hitler's eastern front soldiers had been killed or captured in the first week of the new drive, reported continued gains in the fighting that raged from the far northern Finnish front to the center of the Pripyat marshes on the south.

In the north Gen. Ivan Bagration's forces began a drive for the Baltic Republics of the Soviet union with the capture of two points inside old Poland—Dysna and Prozoroki. Dysna is only 27 miles from Latvia and 54 from Lithuania.

The Red Army captured Slutsk, an important railroad far to the south and about 70 miles west of Bobruisk, and took Petrikov, extending the front to a point 30 miles west of Mazyr and 100 miles southeast of Minsk.

ALBANY WILL GREET DEWEY

Enroute to Albany with Dewey, July 1 (AP)—Thomas E. Dewey neared home today with the third presidential nomination won by a New York governor in 16 years and the foundation of a national campaign organization already well cemented.

Rolling eastward from Chicago, where the Republicans nominated him Wednesday, the 42-year-old governor looked forward to a public reception in the massive old capitol from which Democrats drew their 1928 and 1932 candidates, Alfred E. Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Dewey said he had no plans beyond the "mountain of work" he expects to find on his Albany desk.

The governor was cheered aboard his train by hundreds of Chicago well-wishers late yesterday. Subsequently he shook hands, signed autographs and exchanged banter with crowds during brief stops enroute.

Beside him at each stop was Mrs. Dewey, who drew her own share of applause and the admiration of one Elkhart, Ind., feminine enthusiast who shouted to Dewey, "We like your wife."

"I'm glad you agree with me," the governor shot back.

Plan OPA Ag. Group
To Assist Farmers

Harrisburg, July 1 (AP)—Formation of OPA agricultural cooperating committees with the announced aim of taking care of the little problems of farmers in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland was in prospect today following a four-state farm conference here.

Frank C. Russell, assistant to Daniel P. Woolley, regional OPA administrator of New York, told the conference yesterday district OPA directors will set up the committees to handle problems which are outside the scope of national price control policies.

H. H. Williamson, Washington, OPA agricultural relations advisor, said such committees should be set up and that OPA officials should, if possible, encourage farmers to become active on rationing boards.

HEAVY LOSSES ON SAIPAN FOR YANKEE TROOPS

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, July 1 (AP)—American forces punched through intensified Japanese resistance today on Saipan island, already the Pacific war's bloodiest battlefield, with 9,752 American dead, wounded and missing.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced that casualties for the first two weeks were: Dead, 1,474; wounded, 7,400; missing, 878.

Japanese losses were several times higher—4,951 bodies have been buried—but the defenders were fighting in increased tenacity.

New gains were reported in the center of the battle line and on the eastern flank as American forces pushed through extremely difficult terrain.

From Saipan's D-day, June 14, through last Wednesday, American losses far exceeded the bitter Tawara fight or the six months' Guadalcanal Campaign.

Other Casualties

The Marine assault force, as at Tarawa, bore the heaviest loss on Saipan—1,289 killed in action; 6,377 wounded; 827 missing.

The Army toll: 185 dead; 1,203 wounded; 51 missing.

Tarawa—until now the costliest victory in Marine Corps history—claimed 1,026 dead and 2,557 wounded. Guadalcanal totalled 3,767.

In addition to the Japanese bodies found in Saipan's battle areas, many hundreds of dead and wounded were carried away by withdrawing troops.

Therefore, Admiral Nimitz said, no accurate estimate was possible of Japanese losses.

The Americans fought to a new position near the small mountain town of Charan Danshil, on the eastern edge of the ridge bisecting the island. This provided a dominating position over Japanese-held terrain.

U. S. patrols continued to probe burned Garapan, the island's capital. The town was still under naval and artillery bombardment.

Northward of Garapan, carrier planes and warships hammered Japanese strong points in the Tanager harbor district.

Aerial and surface bombardment also hit nearby Tinian island. Carrier planes struck at Rota, farther south in the Marianas.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, July 1 (AP)—Arithmetic lesson, or figures can be misleading but where do they lead? Herbert Bayard Swope, chairman of the New York State Racing Commission, likes to point out that most of the dough that goes through the mutual windows at racetracks finds its way back to the public—less ten per cent. . . . He was quoted the other day in a local paper as saying: "When the size of the daily handle is mentioned, I would like to see it recorded this way: Total pool, $2,000,000. State's share, $120,000. Tracks share, $80,000. Breakage, $20,000, or whatever it is. Redistributed to the public, $1,780,000." . . . Swope then went on to explain that the amount of money actually bet and re-bet to make up that two million bucks is roughly about a quarter of the total pool, which would be $500,000.

APPLIED SCIENCE

As this department reads those figures, that $220,000 "take" would come out of the $500,000 and thus would amount to 44 per cent of what the public carried into the track. . . . Reducing that to more understandable numbers, an "average" fan who laid aside ten bucks to bet on the horses would have the fun of wagering $40 during the afternoon and would be nicked $4.40 by the machines. . . . On top of that he'd spend about $1.60 for admission, 65 cents for transportation, a dollar for refreshments and 35 cents for a program and tip sheet. . . . That adds up to $3.60, so the day's entertainment would cost him $8. . . . that isn't what we'd call cheap, but it may be okay if you like horses.

The Red Army captured Shusha, an important railroad hub to the south and about 70 miles west of Baku, and took Perikof, extending the front to a point 30 miles west of Mowr and 100 miles southeast of Minsk.

HEAVY LOSSES ON SAIPAN FOR YANKEE TROOPS

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters

Pearl Harbor, July 1 (AP)—American forces punched through intensified Japanese resistance today on Saipan island, already the Pacific war's bloodiest battlefield, with 9,752 American dead, wounded and missing.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced that casualties for the first two weeks were: Dead, 1,474; wounded, 7,400; missing, 878.

Japanese losses were several times higher—4,931 bodies have been buried—but the defenders were fighting in increased tenacity.

New gains were reported in the center of the battle line and on the eastern flank as American forces pushed through extremely difficult terrain.

From Saipan's D-day, June 15, through last Wednesday, American losses far exceeded the bitter Tarawa fight or the six months' Guadalcanal Campaign.

Other Casualties

The Marine assault force, as at Tarawa, bore the heaviest loss on Saipan—1,289 killed in action; 6,377 wounded; 827 missing.

The Army toll: 185 dead; 1,203 wounded; 51 missing.

Tarawa—until now the costliest victory in Marine Corps history—claimed 1,026 dead and 2,557 wounded. Guadalcanal totalled 3,767.

In addition to the Japanese bodies found in Saipan's battle areas, many hundreds of dead and wounded were carried away by withdrawing troops.

Therefore, Admiral Nimitz said, no accurate estimate was possible of Japanese losses.

The Americans fought to a new position near the small mountain town of Charan Danshi, on the eastern edge of the ridge bisecting the island. This provided a dominating position over Japanese-held terrain.

U. S. patrols continued to probe burned Garapan, the island's capital. The town was still under naval and artillery bombardment.

Northward of Garapan, carrier planes and warships hammered Japanese strong points in the Tansanag harbor district.

Aerial and surface bombardment also hit nearby Tinian island. Carrier planes struck at Rota, farther south in the Marianas.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I am writing to tell you of the fourth change of address I have had in the last two months so that I can continue to receive my Times regularly.

I have been detached from the 88th Division to attend the Infantry School at Fort Benning, Ga., as an Officer Candidate in Class 351B.

Each time I have written you I have tried to express my appreciation for this service you are giving the Adams county men and women in service. For my part I can't make that too strong for it has kept me in touch with my old friends in our section.

Yours sincerely,
ROBERT MORGAN

Dear Sir:

I am taking time to write, thanking you for The Gettysburg Times. I appreciate it very much. I look up the news of the boys in the county, to find out if they are in Van Dorn, and since your paper has the addresses printed with their names, it is not hard to find them.

You will notice that I have been promoted from private to private first class. I am working in the kitchen. I have charge of the dining and the kitchen. I am a cook's helper.

There are only a few of us boys here from Adams county. I was in Baton Rouge and met William R. Keefer there. He is stationed at Harding Field, in Louisiana. He is a son of Roger Keefer, Littlestown. There are two of us from Littlestown and two from Hanover that I know of so far. There were five of us from Littlestown who came into this camp together and there are only two of us left.

T-5 John Hoke is only a block away from me. I get to see him pretty often.

I want to thank you again for the paper.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, July 1 (AP)—Arithmetic lesson, or figures can be misleading but where do they lead? Herbert Bayard Swope, chairman of the New York State Racing Commission, likes to point out that most of the dough that goes through the mutual windows at racetracks finds its way back to the public—less ten per cent. . . . He was quoted the other day in a local paper as saying: "When the size of the daily handle is mentioned, I would like to see it recorded this way: Total pool, $2,000,000. State's share, $200,000. Tracks share, $800,000. Breakage, $20,000, or whatever it is. Redistributed to the public, $1,760,000." . . . Swope then went on to explain that the amount of money actually bet and re-bet to make up that two million bucks is roughly about a quarter of the total pool, which would be $500,000.

APPLIED SCIENCE

As this department reads those figures, that $220,000 "take" would come out of the $500,000 and thus would amount to 44 per cent of what the public carried into the track. . . . Reducing that to more understandable numbers, an "average" fan who laid aside ten bucks to bet on the horses would have the fun of wagering $40 during the afternoon and would be nicked $4.40 by the machines. . . . On top of that he'd spend about $1.60 for admission, 65 cents for transportation, a dollar for refreshments and 35 cents for a program and tip sheet. . . . That adds up to $3.60, so the day's entertainment would cost him $2. . . . that isn't what we'd call cheap, but it may be okay if you like horses.

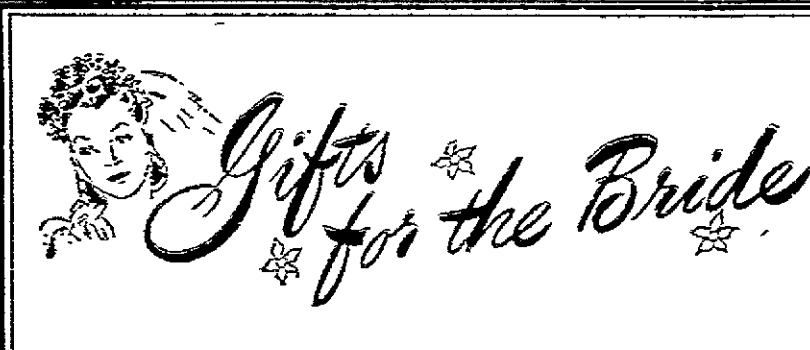

SPORTSPOLITRI

Promoter Max Jess says he's offering Hank Armstrong $10,000 to fight Morris Reif, the Brooklyn beller, at Ebbets Field, August 2. . . . Old Catch Paige, who can produce a draft card to show he's just 38, could give Washington's Gil Torres an argument about who has the pinkest legs in baseball. Paige builds them up with two pairs of socks. . . . In case college scouts are interested, Granville Hammer, 16-year-old Richmond schoolboy whose brother, Garvin, plays short for the Piedmont League Colts, hit .565 in 15 games this spring. Also plays football and basketball. . . . In 12 games this season, Henry Erman, Lawrence college first sacker, struck out just once.

Lient. Ox Emerson, former Detroit Lion guard, was among those rescued when the escort carrier Block Island was torpedoed. No word has been heard as to whether he saved the material for his master's thesis in history, which he had along to work on in his spare time. . . . In less than a week and a half, Pvt. Salvatore Saputo of the 67th General Hospital softball team at Camp Ellis, Ill., pitched three no-hit games.

STUNNED NAZIS
POURING INTO
CITY OF MINSK

By EDDIE GILMORE
Moscow, July 1 (AP)—Front dispatches said today that remnants of a demoralized German Army are pouring into Minsk, now outflanked from the northwest, and that the roar of battle is echoing through the city's outskirts.
Storm troops and the Gestapo were reported trying to create some kind of order out of the battered, frightened Nazi legions defending the capital of White Russia, now Hitler's most important bastion on his eastern front.
Three Soviet armies converged rapidly upon Minsk from the northeast, east and southeast. Gen. Ivan Cherniakhovsky's third Army streamed through the thick forests northeast of the city over numerous bridges now stretched across the Berezina river.
Nazis Are Bewildered
The Army paper Red Star revealed that the main crossing was made over a bridge which guerrillas held in a pitched battle until Red Army troops arrived.
The Red Star dispatch said Soviet cavalry moved through the forests north of Minsk and outflanked the city from the northwest.
Correspondents reported hundreds of demoralized Germans surrendering before they reached the city.
The Red Army was represented as having some difficulty in moving up for a direct blow upon Minsk because of the large number of captives crowding the roads.
Of fighting in the city of Borisov, main railway center northeast of Minsk and the Nazis' biggest defense point before the city, Red Star correspondent Yakof Miletzky said "one street after another is being captured."
Reds Report Gains
The Russians, asserting that 183,930 of Hitler's eastern front soldiers had been killed or captured in the first week of the new drive, reported continued gains in the fighting that raged from the far northern Finnish front to the center of the Pripyat marshes on the south.
In the north Gen. Ivan Bagramian's forces began a drive for the Baltic Republics of the Soviet union with the capture of two points inside old Poland—Dysna and Prozoroki. Dysna is only 27 miles from Latvia and 54 from Lithuania.
The Red Army captured Slutsk, an important railroad far to the south and about 70 miles west of Bobruisk, and took Petrikov, extending the front to a point 30 miles west of Mazyr and 100 miles southeast of Minsk.

ALBANY WILL GREET DEWEY

Enroute to Albany with Dewey, July 1 (AP)—Thomas E. Dewey neared home today with the third presidential nomination won by a New York governor in 16 years and the foundation of a national campaign organization already well cemented.
Rolling eastward from Chicago, where the Republicans nominated him Wednesday, the 42-year-old governor looked forward to a public reception in the massive old capitol from which Democrats drew their 1928 and 1932 candidates, Alfred E. Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt.
Dewey said he had no plans beyond the "mountain of work" he expects to find on his Albany desk.
The governor was cheered aboard his train by hundreds of Chicago well-wishers late yesterday. Subsequently he shook hands, signed autographs and exchanged banter with crowds during brief stops enroute.
Beside him at each stop was Mrs. Dewey, who drew her own share of applause and the admiration of one Elkhart, Ind., feminine enthusiast who shouted to Dewey, "We like your wife."
"I'm glad you agree with me," the governor shot back.

Plan OPA Ag. Group
To Assist Farmers

Harrisburg, July 1 (AP)—Formation of OPA agricultural cooperating committees with the announced aim of taking care of the little problems of farmers in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland was in prospect today following a four-state farm conference here.
Frank C. Russell, assistant to Daniel P. Woolley, regional OPA administrator of New York, told the conference yesterday district OPA directors will set up the committees to handle problems which are outside the scope of national price control policies.
H. H. Williamson, Washington, OPA agricultural relations advisor, said such committees should be set up and that OPA officials should, if possible, encourage farmers to become active on rationing boards.

In addition to the Japanese bodies found in Saipan's battle areas, many hundreds of dead and wounded were carried away by withdrawing troops.
Therefore, Admiral Nimitz said, no accurate estimate was possible of Japanese losses.
The Americans fought to a new position near the small mountain town of Charan Danshil, on the eastern edge of the ridge bisecting the island. This provided a dominating position over Japanese-held terrain.
U. S. patrols continued to probe burned Garapan, the island's capital. The town was still under naval and artillery bombardment.
Northward of Garapan, carrier planes and warships hammered Japanese strong points in the Tanapag harbor district.
Aerial and surface bombardment also hit nearby Tinian island. Carrier planes struck at Rota, farther south in the Marianas.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:
I am writing to tell you of the fourth change of address I have had in the last two months so that I can continue to receive my Times regularly.
I have been detached from the 89th Division to attend the Infantry School at Fort Benning, Ga., as an Officer Candidate in Class 351B.
Each time I have written you I have tried to express my appreciation for this service you are giving the Adams county men and women in service. For my part I can't make that too strong for it has kept me in touch with my old friends in our section.
Yours sincerely,
ROBERT MORGAN
Dear Sir:
I am taking time to write, thanking you for The Gettysburg Times. I appreciate it very much. I look up the news of the boys in the county, to find out if they are in Van Dorn, and since your paper has the addresses printed with their names, it is not hard to find them.
You will notice that I have been promoted from private to private first class. I am working in the kitchen. I have charge of the dining and the kitchen. I am a cook's helper.
There are only a few of us boys here from Adams county. I was in Baton Rouge and met William R. Kiefer there. He is stationed at Harding Field, in Louisiana. He is a son of Roger Keefer, Littlestown. There are two of us from Littlestown and two from Hanover that I know of so far. There were five of us from Littlestown who came into this camp together and there are only two of us left.
T/S John Hefe is only a block away from me. I get to see him pretty often.
I want to thank you again for the paper.
PFC. CLAUDE E. SNYDER,
Co. B, 253rd Inf., 63rd Div., APO 410,
Camp Van Dorn, Miss.

SPORTS ROUNDUP
By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, July 1 (AP)—Arithmetic lesson, or figures can be misleading but where do they lead?
Herbert Bayard Swope, chairman of the New York State Racing Commission, likes to point out that most of the dough that goes through the mutual windows at racetracks finds its way back to the public—less ten percent. . . . He was quoted the other day in a local paper as saying: "When the size of the daily handle is mentioned, I would like to see it recorded this way: Total pool, $2,000,000. State's share, $120,000. Tracks share, $880,000. Breakage, $20,000, or whatever it is. Redistributed to the public, $1,780,000." . . . Swope then went on to explain that the amount of money actually bet and re-bet to make up that two million bucks is roughly about a quarter of the total pool, which would be $500,000.
APPLIED SCIENCE
As this department reads those figures, that $220,000 "take" would come out of the $500,000 and thus would amount to 44 per cent of what the public carried into the track. . . . Reducing that to more understandable numbers, an "average" fan who laid aside ten bucks to bet on the horses would have the fun of wagering $40 during the afternoon and would be nicked $4.40 by the machines. . . . On top of that he'd spend about $1.60 for admission, 65 cents for transportation, a dollar for refreshments and 35 cents for a program and tip sheet. . . . That adds up to $3.60, so the day's entertainment would cost him $8. . . . that isn't what we'd call cheap, but it may be okay if you like horses.

MEN AGAINST DEATH

YOU who have waited for so many months for this decisive invasion wish only for one thing—the power to strike one blow at the side of those who are fighting for us, the ability to bring victory one fraction of an instant nearer.

You can. And those who rode with the Allied Invasion Fleet will know you by what you think and what you do now! They are prepared and determined to endure the most savage opposition that evil genius can conceive and desperation put to use. You can be prepared to remain calm in the face of the inevitable wild rumors of victory, to remain sure and steadfast in the teeth of set-backs and losses.

More—there is one tangible way to show that you, safe at home because they are braving death in Europe, have your hearts as well as your hopes in this invasion. It is to back the attack with War Bonds as you have never done before! It is to back it in dark hours as in bright, back it with every single dollar that you can possibly wrest from necessity!

This Fifth War Loan drive gives you an opportunity you have never had before—to show those who are fighting how fully the nation and you as an individual stand with them. It's your turn now!

Riding with Russell

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL, Member S. A. E.

Some motorists who live in the same square with you won't be friendly unless you're in the same circle.

Some of these summer days you may find that when you switch off the engine it doesn't stop, firing along in a mysterious way. When, and if, this should happen it's an instant tip-off that the engine is badly overheated. Stall the engine at once by placing the car in high gear and engaging the clutch. Unless you do this the engine may run for several minutes, firing itself, and meanwhile not getting any cooler.

Synthetics Depend On Us

After 18,500 miles of testing synthetic tires used on the round-the-nation AAA "Keep 'Em Rolling" tour Ted Allen tells me that he is well satisfied with synthetics but that the one thing they won't stand for is underinflation. So we may as well get used to constant attention to pressures, for it is all grooming for the time when most cars will be rolling on substitutes. Underinflation accelerates breakdown of sidewalls, loosens the tread and encourages ply separation. Allen also stresses that synthetics have given such good service on AAA cars because the latter were held to reasonable speeds and given the benefit of skillful driving. Obviously our worry over the results to be expected from synthetics is largely a matter of how well we as owners and drivers are going to measure up.

One point not carefully considered by many owners of cars bought just prior to our entrance into the war is the fact that manufacturers did not have an opportunity to make corrections in certain mechanical features' needing such change. The result has been to assume these features to be bad mistakes, which they may not have been at all. I mention this because it now comes to light that one of the leading companies is making an improved switch for use in the special ignition system of one of its prewar models. Meanwhile many owners have scrapped the original switch, going back to a simpler type of ignition, and sacrificing certain advantages which the original change was intended to provide.

Now the company is in production on the new switch and unless owners change their attitude regarding the matter they are apt to go along indefinitely, not knowing that for a small charge they can have the improvement originally intended for them.

Mechanic Joe Speaking: "It may be a fact that anyone who owns a car these days that is six years old really has a 'new' car but it's no consolation to have the job ride like a buckboard wagon. I think right now we need a little more publicity for the fact that a new car 'ride' can be bought. It is just a matter of replacing, or rebuilding, the car's shock absorption system."

"Start with the springs by having them rechecked and reset. They are not only in bad condition but have flattened out and lost their resiliency. Then replace the shock absorbers or have the old ones rebuilt. Give close attention to the spring shackles. The seat cushions and the tires are a part of the shock absorption system, but you can't very well change these. However, by comparison with the springs and shocks they are very secondary to the case of riding."

Perhaps it's true that the engine of your car starts freely and that you are spared those delays which drive many an owner into a state of daily discouragement, but even so you'll find it an advantage to keep moisture off of exposed ignition parts. Moisture encourages higher resistance in the ignition system; this, in turn, accelerating coil failure. In other words, even though you do not find it necessary to test off ignition parts before starting out you stand to invite coil trouble just as surely as the fellow who is having his headaches getting started.

And, by the way, remember that one of the leading causes of dampness on tops of ignition parts such as spark plugs, coils and distributors is accumulation of dirt. Keeping 'em clean helps keep 'em dry.

Helps To Show Neglect

On a car used for testing tires I noticed that every few inches around the sidewalls there were chalk marks. These I was informed are used for making periodic inspections to measure tread wear and other factors. What impressed me, however, was the fact that the driver was so skillfully handling the car he did not rub against curbs. Chalk marks tell the story. If you have a habit of ramming into curbs you might try marking the tires for a week and seeing how much of the chalk remains after you have gone through the usual procedures of parking and curving corners.

That on many cars which have both hand and foot brake working through the same set of rear brake shoes it is possible to set the hand brake firmly by pressing hard on the brake pedal when pulling up on the handle of the holding brake. Release the brake by pressing on the brake pedal simultaneously.

That many a piston ring job turns out badly because of failure to treat the engine to a good valve reconditioning. In fact if the valves are in bad shape the new rings will accelerate the valve trouble, especially leakage around the stems.

Buying A Used Car?

This won't give you the whole story but if you are shopping for a good used car always include the test of speeding up the engine and noting how quickly it stops when the ignition is switched off. If it continues in action for more than a few seconds the indications are that its compression is low and that bearings probably are loose. When switched off during idling the engine should stop immediately, if it is in good shape.

In trying to map out our car ownership program in advance the common failing seems to be to overlook the "X" factor. We get all the facts together but fail to take into account that there may be an unknown factor. Let me show you how this figured in the case of the rubber crisis following Japanese conquest of the East Indies.

Using one of the popular "Budget Your Mileage" forms I figured the first year's mileage at about the same level as the year before, but for the second year I cut it away down on the theory that the tires by that time would be getting a bit threadbare and uncertain. At the end of two years I figured synthetics would be along in sufficient quantity to justify an upward budgeting of mileage. It was a pretty picture, but of course it failed to take into account gasoline rationing which alone accounted for a drop of 702 miles from a projected 900 miles for the month of September 1942 alone!

What's Your Car Trouble?
Q. Whenever I am speeding up in second gear as in traffic or on a hill there is an occasional pronounced skip in the engine. Do you think that the fuel pump is starting to go wrong, or would a higher carburetor float level help? R. F. S.

A. This suggests that the breaker points need going over.

Q. How can I free the heat control valve in the intake manifold? S. L. A. It's quite a job, if the valve has been long neglected. On some cars it is necessary to remove the manifold system and force the valve free. Before going to extremes try daily applications of rust solvents (penetrating oils) when the engine is cold.

Q. The speedometer on my car won't register over 25 miles an hour. Have had the entire unit removed and tested in a shop, but it always

An Evening Thought
If poverty is the mother of crimes, want of sense is the father.—La Bruyere.

Just Folks
WAR BRIDES
So young they seem to be—
Brides of these troubled times,
Brides of the boys at sea
And the boys of the distant climes,
The boys of the skies and the deep,
Where the great, steel fishes creep!
Scarcely begun their lives,
Or so it appears to the old,
And today they are soldiers' wives!
Wives of the brave and bold,
Awaiting war's final gun,
As women have always done!
Still in their pretty frocks—
Youthful and full to see—
Wearing their bobby socks,
Children they seem to be;
Now, of war's bitter care,
Bearing a woman's share!

Today's Talk
PLEASE DO NOT FEAR
If people would only get rid of their fears, over half of life would be devoid of its battles, and that half would be filled with endless and joyous adventures.
In William James' book "The Will to Believe" you will find this admonition: "Be not afraid of life. Believe that life is worth living, and your belief will help create the fact."
Most of all fears never come to pass, like worries. They are merely Ghosts on a shadowing expedition. If you run from them, then they gloat over the fact that they have demonstrated something real, where, as a matter of fact, they have neither life nor sustenance. Fears hide in the gables of the mind and, unfortunately, are allowed by many to make their home there—considered real, though nothing but phantoms!
The Great Teacher, looking deep into people, saw the hovering of this fear among all classes with whom He came in contact. Recall His many statements: "Be not afraid, I am with you." "Fear not." "Take no thought of the morrow." He was forever comforting others, seeking to drive all fear from their minds.
Belief in yourself, in your fellowman, in God, is the surest way to remain fearless against all the forces of evil and disaster that blow their breath across your path. Please do not fear!
The child with its tiny hand within that of the big father does not fear. Its trust is absolute. It has not learned the falseness of the world's fears. So it walks on happily with that larger hand guiding its footsteps.
Now, as never before in our lives, do we need the strong grip of a larger hand holding this small one of ours. Fears are bathing the very atmosphere of the world. We breathe and feel them. But the same strong God in peace is the same strong God in war. His Universe does not change. The same stars shine, the same rays of the Sun warm the earth.
Put those hands of yours into those of the Great Father of us all—and do not fear!

Riding with Russell
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL, Member S. A. E.

Some motorists who live in the same square with you won't be friendly unless you're in the same circle.
Some of these summer days you may find that when you switch off the engine it doesn't stop, firing along in a mysterious way. When, and if, this should happen it's an instant tip-off that the engine is badly overheated. Stall the engine at once by placing the car in high gear and engaging the clutch. Unless you do this the engine may run for several minutes, firing itself, and meanwhile not getting any cooler.
Synthetics Depend On Us
After 18,500 miles of testing synthetic tires used on the round-the-nation AAA "Keep 'Em Rolling" tour Ted Allen tells me that he is well satisfied with synthetics but that the one thing they won't stand for is underinflation. So we may as well get used to constant attention to pressures, for it is all grooming for the time when most cars will be rolling on substitutes. Underinflation accelerates breakdown of sidewalls, loosens the tread and encourages ply separation. Allen also stresses that synthetics have given such good service on AAA cars because the latter were held to reasonable speeds and given the benefit of skillful driving. Obviously our worry over the results to be expected from synthetics is largely a matter of how well we as owners and drivers are going to measure up.
One point not carefully considered by many owners of cars bought just prior to our entrance into the war is the fact that manufacturers did not have an opportunity to make corrections in certain mechanical features' needing such change. The result has been to assume these features to be bad mistakes, which they may not have been at all. I mention this because it now comes to light that one of the leading companies is making an improved switch for use in the special ignition system of one of its prewar models. Meanwhile many owners have scrapped the original switch, going back to a simpler type of ignition, and sacrificing certain advantages which the original change was intended to provide. Now the company is in production on the new switch and unless owners change their attitude regarding the matter they are apt to go along indefinitely, not knowing that for a small charge they can have the improvement originally intended for them.
Mechanic Joe Speaking:
"It may be a fact that anyone who owns a car these days that is six years old really has a 'new' car but it's no consolation to have the job ride like a buckboard wagon. I think right now we need a little more publicity for the fact that a new car 'ride' can be bought. It is just a matter of replacing, or rebuilding, the car's shock absorption system.
"Start with the springs by having them rearched and reset. They are not only in bad condition but have flattened out and lost their resiliency. Then replace the shock absorbers or have the old ones rebuilt. Give close attention to the spring shackles. The seat cushions and the tires are a part of the shock absorption system, but you can't very well change these. However, by comparison with the springs and shocks they are very secondary to the ease of riding."
Perhaps it's true that the engine of your car starts freely and that you are spared those delays which

drive many an owner into a state of daily discouragement, but even so you'll find it an advantage to keep moisture off exposed ignition parts. Moisture encourages higher resistance in the ignition system; this, in turn, accelerating coil failure. In other words, even though you do not find it necessary to wipe off ignition parts before starting out you stand to invite coil trouble just as surely as the fellow who is having his headaches getting started.
And, by the way, remember that one of the leading causes of dampness on tops of ignition parts such as spark plugs, coils and distributors is accumulation of dirt. Keeping 'em clean helps keep 'em dry.
Helps To Show Neglect
On a car used for testing tires I noticed that every few inches around the sidewalls there were chalk marks. These I was informed are used for making periodic inspections to measure tread wear and other factors. What impressed me, however, was the fact that the driver was so skillfully handling the car he did not rub against curbs. Chalk marks tell the story. If you have a habit of ramming into curbs you might try marking the tires for a week and seeing how much of the chalk remains after you have gone through the usual procedures of parking and cutting corners.
That on many cars which have both hand and foot brake working through the same set of rear brake shoes it is possible to set the hand brake firmly by pressing hard on the brake pedal when pulling up on the handle of the holding brake. Release the brake by pressing on the brake pedal simultaneously.
That many a piston ring job turns out badly because of failure to treat the engine to a good valve reconditioning. In fact if the valves are in bad shape the new rings will accelerate the valve trouble, especially leakage around the stems.
Buying A Used Car?
This won't give you the whole story but if you are shopping for a good used car always include the test of speeding up the engine and noting how quickly it stops when the ignition is switched off. If it continues in action for more than a few seconds the indications are that its compression is low and that bearings probably are loose. When switched off during idling the engine should stop immediately, if it is in good shape.
In trying to map out our car ownership program in advance the common failing seems to be to overlook the "X" factor. We get all the facts together but fail to take into account that there may be an unknown factor. Let me show you how this figured in the case of the rubber crisis following Japanese conquest of the East Indies.
Using one of the popular "Budget Your Mileage" forms I figured the first year's mileage at about the same level as the year before, but for the second year I cut it away down on the theory that the tires by that time would be getting a bit threadbare and uncertain. At the end of two years I figured synthetics would be along in sufficient quantity to justify an upward budgeting of mileage. It was a pretty picture, but of course it failed to take into account gasoline rationing which alone accounted for a drop of 702 miles from a projected 900 miles for the month of September 1942 alone!
What's Your Car Trouble?
Q. Whenever I am speeding up in second gear as in traffic or on a hill there is an occasional pronounced skip in the engine. Do you think that the fuel pump is starting to go wrong, or would a higher carburetor float level help? R. F. S.
A. This suggests that the breaker points need going over.
Q. How can I free the heat control valve in the intake manifold? S. L.
A. It's quite a job, if the valve has been long neglected. On some cars it is necessary to remove the manifold system and force the valve free. Before going to extremes try daily applications of rust solvents (penetrating oils) when the engine is cold.
Q. The speedometer on my car won't register over 25 miles an hour. Have had the entire unit removed and tested in a shop, but it always

H. B. L.
A. This looks like one of those occasional situations where the speedometer pointer is cramped by the glass of the instrument panel. Set the speedometer face so that it isn't so near the glass.
Q. I am having a difficult time detecting a slow leak in a puncture-proof tube. I understand that this is one of the drawbacks to such tubes. What's your thought about it? D. McN.
A. The chances are that the leakage isn't in the rubber itself but in the tire valve.

The cost of living has gone up like this—

BUT the price of electricity has come down like this!

Nobody needs to tell you that the cost of living has been soaring toward high C.

But maybe you do need a reminder that the cost of electricity has been sliding deep down.

If yours is an average household, you're getting about twice as much electricity for your money today as you did 15 years ago. And 1944 government figures show that the average price has continued to ease off a little—even since war began. That fact ought to be music to your ears!

Getting prices down and keeping them down is one of the electric industry's greatest achievements.

It took a lot of planning, initiative and practical business management to do the job.

Here "Report to the Nation," news program of the week, every Wednesday evening, 10:30, E. W. T. Columbia Broadcasting System.
